- 12.6 If the Company makes a provisional appointment of a director or senior executive, or puts a resolution to members electing a director, subject to receipt of satisfactory outstanding checks, then it may require the director or senior executive to give an unequivocal undertaking to resign should the Company receive an outstanding check that it considers is not satisfactory (this is particularly so for a director, since once they are appointed or elected, they can generally only be removed from office against their will by a resolution of security holders).

13. Access to advice

- 13.1 All Directors have unrestricted access to Company records and information except where the Board determines that such access would be adverse to the Company's interests.
- 13.2 All Directors may consult management and employees as required to enable them to discharge their duties as Directors.

ANNEXURE A – FACTORS RELEVANT TO INDEPENDENCE OF DIRECTOR

Examples of interests, positions and relationships that might raise issues about the independence of a director of the Company include if the director:

- (a) is, or has been, employed in an executive capacity by the Company or any of its child entities and there has not been a period of at least three years between ceasing such employment and serving on the Board;
- (b) receives performance-based remuneration (including options or performance rights) from, or participates in an employee incentive scheme of, the Company;
- (c) is, or has been within the last three years, in a material business relationship (e.g. as a supplier, professional adviser, consultant or customer) with the Company or any of its child entities, or is an officer of, or otherwise associated with, someone with such a relationship;
- (d) is, represents, or is or has been within the last three years an officer or employee of, or professional adviser to, a substantial holder;
- (e) has close personal ties with any person who falls within any of the categories described above (these ties may be based on family, friendship or other social or business connections); or
- (f) has been a director of the Company for such a period that their independence from management and substantial holders may have been compromised.

In each case, the materiality of the interest, position or relationship needs to be assessed by the Board to determine whether it might interfere, or might reasonably be seen to interfere, with the director's capacity to bring an independent judgement to bear on issues before the Board and to act in the best interests of the Company as a whole rather than in the interests of an individual security holder or other party.
